buckinghamshire

"Chafor is a small, family-run estate set in the heart of the Buckinghamshire countryside. Born out of Tim and Stephanie's love of wine and food, allied to an entrepreneurial sense of adventure, they have created a wine business serving both their local area and fans from further afield, remaining totally focussed on the day-to-day commercial reality of running a business of this size. "We want to stay small, artisan, sustainable and without compromising our principles", says Tim

argentina

Trapiche, located in the extremely wine-rich region of Mendoza in Argentina, is a winery that was set up during 1883. The Trapiche winery is a blend of modern, sophisticated technology and traditional architecture, which makes it ideal for producing premium quality of wines. With the high altitude of the Mendoza River and the exquisite temperature of this region make it ideal for growing many types of grapes. The ecosystem balance and biological diversity of the vineyards are maintained at all times, as the focus is more on recovering the bacterial activity of the soil.
